(childcare is not available)
September 11th - December 4th

- Inductive study of Psalms 119
Taught by Kay Couch & Linda Mushrush

Inductive study is an approach to God's Word focusing on 3 basic steps that move from a general overview to specifics. The steps are observation (what does it say?), interpretation (what does it mean?), and application (what does it mean for my life?). This is a valuable tool in understanding and applying the principles of God's Word.

This class meets on campus in the Elementary Building, Room 102

The heart is the first sign of life and the first functional organ. It matters more than anything else in all of creation. We are instructed to guard our hearts. Yet, we lose heart. We forget the hopes and desires of childhood. Years pass, life happens, our heart is wounded. In order to survive, we push it aside or bury it, and attempt to live without it. We become efficient, dutiful women, constantly striving to be the women we 'ought' to be, yet never knowing when we will finally 'arrive'. "Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest." Matt 11:28 In this study, we will walk through how God offers to be the hero of your heart, to rescue and release you to live as a fully alive feminine woman, who is truly captivating.

This class meets Off Campus at Randi Fass' home. The address will be sent to you after you register.

You will need to purchase your own books using the ISBN numbers listed in the class description.
