

GENERATE GUIDELINES

GENERATE has the potential to be life-changing for everyone involved. It's a time where God will be moving in your heart, and in the heart of many others. But here's the deal. For everyone to get the most out of GENERATE, there must be some expectations that everyone agrees to. Your parents might call these rules. We prefer to call them guidelines. Here are a few of them.

NOTHING ILLEGAL. Please do not bring any drugs, alcohol, guns, or any weapon of any kind. Also, please leave the fireworks, lighters, and any other explosives at home. Common sense, right?

DRESS CODE. Life itself requires a dress code, and GENERATE is no exception. In an effort to minimize distractions, we do ask all attendees to avoid revealing clothing. Clothes that are too short, clothes that are too tight, and clothing that seems a little too transparent, all need to be left at home. Also, we ask for girls to wear modest one-piece bathing suits or a dark colored shirt over any two-piece. For the guys, we ask for no Speedo suits, pretty please.

PRANKS. Not a good idea. Hard pass. (Even for the "fun" adults)

SCHEDULE. Here's the deal: you're expected to attend all the scheduled meetings and gatherings. But you should want to! It's why you're here! Also, lights out means lights out. You don't have to be asleep, but you do have to be in your room and quiet. No girls in guys' rooms, and no guys in girls' rooms. Oh, and unless you have permission, you should stay on campus at all times.

DAMAGES. The campus where we will be staying has been so gracious to host GENERATE this summer, and a great way we can honor Christ is to take care of the places we find ourselves in while at camp. If something is broken or if a room key is lost, either the hosting campus or GENERATE staff will be in touch to reconcile the charges due. Bottom line - try not to break or lose anything.

RESPECT OTHERS. This is super simple but easy to miss. Be kind. Don't be annoying. Smile. Make friends. Don't be lame. And please use deodorant. See? Simple.

HAVE FUN, AND LEARN LOTS. Camp is something you will remember for your entire life. Expect the Holy Spirit to show you amazing things about God and about you. Have fun. Learn a lot. If you do these two things, GENERATE will have been a huge win for you.
